7th AINSE/ANBUG Neutron Science Symposium (AANSS 2008)

AINSE Theatre, ANSTO, New Illawarra Rd, Lucas Heights, NSW 2234, Australia

8-10 December 2008

The goals of AANSS 2008 are:

- to highlight the capabilities of the new OPAL neutron beam facility at Lucas Heights, both at the date of the Symposium and in the near future;
- to present some of the best recent results in Australian and international neutron scattering science;
- to promote graduate student research activities;
- to engage local researchers, especially students, in the possibilities and practice of neutron scattering methods;
- to highlight the complementarity of neutron and x-ray scattering, particularly synchrotron X-ray scattering.

The ANBUG Annual General Meeting will also be held at AINSE during the symposium.

Insert the body of the abstract here. Please keep it within the margins of this single page using this text format, including any figures. Embedded figures should be OK, but it would be a good idea to submit the original (EPS, JPEG, PICT, PNG) file as well, just in case. Abstracts should be e-mailed to DRiley@unimelb.edu.au by 26 September 2008, with "AANSS abstract" in the header.
